Ridley Agri Products – Deletions

Dear Valued Customer,

As part of our ongoing range review process, we have undertaken a detailed assessment of product performance, category role, and overall portfolio alignment. Following this review, we have made the decision to remove a number of products from our range.

These decisions are never taken lightly. The changes are primarily driven by our need to ensure the range remains focused on the products that deliver the best fit for our customers, optimise range space, and maintain a clear and effective shopper offering.

While the products being removed have played an important role in the range, we must continually evolve the portfolio to ensure it reflects current customer demand and provides the strongest overall proposition in market.

The following products will be deleted from the Ridley Packaged range:
